Support from Sestak

To the Editor:

We are pleased to announce that we have received the endorsement of Congressman Joe Sestak for our candidacy to the four open positions on the Radnor School Board. Enclosed below is his endorsement of us.

Statement of Endorsement from Congressman Joseph A. Sestak Jr. (PA-07)

I believe strongly in providing a quality public education for children. In these challenging times a good education is essential not only to success in life but to our economic prosperity as a nation. As a member of both the Committee on Education and Labor and the Subcommittee of Early Childhood, Elementary and Secondary Education in the U.S. House of Representatives, I have been an advocate for giving our youngest children an early start to a good education and addressing shortcomings from first grade through high school regarding the No Child Left Behind Act (NCLB).

On Nov. 3 Radnor Township will have a chance to elect four Democratic candidates who are truly committed to preserving the quality of public education in a manner which is both collaborative and fiscally responsible. Brucie Rapoport, Rob Armstrong, Doug Blazey and Lydia Solomon are a talented team of individuals who offer voters a wide range of experience from the Radnor educational community. They are current leaders in the school district; educators, civic leaders, legal experts, business professionals and financial managers. Their leadership team would attract and retain the finest teachers, make the best use of new technologies and promote a well-rounded curriculum that delivers a superior education to all students. They are committed to integrity and transparency on the Radnor School Board. They want your input on educational issues. Everybody in Radnor has a stake in the success of their schools.

Democratic candidates Brucie Rapoport, Rob Armstrong, Doug Blazey and Lydia Solomon are the team whose election to the four open seats on the Radnor School Board would create the majority of directors necessary to enact needed policies that represent positive change for the district. They are committed to maintaining current class sizes in the face of tight budget constraints. They call for a Curriculum Audit of Radnor schools to make sure students have access to those courses essential for their future and to avoid redundant school expense. Voting for hard-working and smart school-board directors in local elections can be considered part of a larger national movement to repair the damage done to the educational system after years of neglect. It is critical that they have your support. They certainly have mine. This election could be determined by as little as a few votes. Please take the time to vote on Nov. 3 for Democrats Brucie Rapoport, Rob Armstrong, Doug Blazey and Lydia Solomon for Radnor School Board directors.

End of endorsement statement.
